

The Principals of Palliative and End of Life Care

Information for Candidates

Who is the course for?

Do you support or care for people with a terminal illness, long-term condition or old age and frailty? This course will help you to gain an understanding of palliative and end of life care, develop your skills and apply them to your practice. The course is taught by experts and clinicians working in palliative and end of life care and you will be supported in practice by a work-based mentor. Learning will be a mix of online and classroom based teaching with interactive activities and simulated scenarios.

What are the course dates?

Spring 2023: February 2023 – May 2023

Autumn 2023: September 2023 – December 2023

What support will I receive?

To enrol on the course you must have a workplace mentor in a senior role. Mentors will be invited to attend the introduction session.

Mentors will support you to complete your workbook by evidencing how you implement your knowledge and skills into practice.

Delivery Methods:

- Presentations and interactive lessons (classroom and online);
- Simulation;
- Peer networking: online forum
- Tutorials
- Workbook: based on End of Life Care Learning Outcomes and reflection
- 1:1 supervision and mentor support.

How long is the course?

The course will 12 weeks in length. All sessions are available to all candidates. Healthcare professionals are required to attend all (H) sessions and social care professionals required to attend all (S) sessions. Health care and social care professionals are required to attend all (H/S) sessions. Please see timetable on next page.

Academic supervisions will be arranged from week 2 to week 10

A workplace mentor will support individual practice development.

What is my commitment?

Candidates will require a laptop/iPad with camera and mic and internet connection for online sessions

Candidates will be required to attend all sessions they are allocated to (H = healthcare professional, S = social care professional), complete a workbook and pass an oral poster presentation assessment.

Candidates must attend all full day classroom sessions and be absent for no more than two of the online topic sessions. If they are absent for a topic session they must arrange to meet with their academic supervisor to discuss the session.

If candidates fail to attend the minimum requirement they will be given the opportunity to access the required sessions on the next cohort and must do this before they can take their final assessment.

Where does the course run?

The course is run by St Gemma's Hospice in Leeds.
