

"The training was wonderful. It's information that anyone working with CYP should keep in mind, and it has given me different ways to approach the subjects in clinical sessions"

Clinical Fellow, Alder Hey Children's Hospital

Free City & Guilds assured gaming and gambling awareness and harm prevention workshops for healthcare professionals.

Bradford Teaching Hospitals NHS Foundation Trust is working with Ygam to offer fully funded online training on gaming and gambling harms in children and young people on Thursday 26th June 2025.

NHS
Bradford Teaching
Hospitals
NHS Foundation Trust

Suitable for: GPs, doctors, nurses, counsellors, psychologists, social prescribers, physiotherapists and mental health practitioners who work with young people.

Topics include:

- Gaming and gambling exposure on young and developing brains
- Risk and associated harms
- The influence of advertising, products, social media, in game purchases and digital convergence
- The young brain: decision making, addiction and motivation
- Barriers to seeking support
- Example case study scenarios
- Signs of harm
- Conversations, screening, planning, follow-ups and signposting

On completion of this workshop, you will gain a City & Guilds Certificate and Digital Credential and receive access to resources to support you within your role.

To book on to our fully funded workshop, click the date below or scan the QR code.

Thursday 26th June

09:45 - 12:00

Sovereign Lecture Theatre, Field House Education Centre, Bradford Royal Infirmary, Duckworth Lane, Bradford, BD9 6RJ

